Description of trip: This week Flamingo's have visited the Purr Café. It is a café with the added extra of having six cats that roam around the café. You can stroke them and play with them. We ordered treats in the form of a diet Pepsi and a cake. Once we had finished our treats, the owner gave us some cat treats to feed the cats. They all flocked around us like the bird scene in Home Alone! There were big cats, baby cats, cats with stripes, cats with boots and a cat with extra big ears. We asked the owner which breed the cats were. One was a Maine Coon. It was only 4 months old, so still quite small, but it will get really big. Another breed was a Dorset Rex. It had such big ears and a bumpy coat. Our favourite was Selena. She was a blue point British shorthair. We had a challenge of stacking the plastic cats on top of one another. The record is seven. We were not successful. A great trip!
