Today we took a trip to Church Farm as part of our term topic 'The Farm'.

The weather was wet, but we didn't let that dampen our excitement. The children loved the hands on experience that church farm has to offer and did not hesitate to climb in to the pens with the goats, sheep, chickens and rabbits. We made the most of the rain and enjoyed jumping in muddy puddles seeing who could make the biggest splash. The children were excellent at remembering their hand hygiene and hardly needed prompting to visit the wash stations. As an extra treat we got to ride the tractor and feed the pigs.

Quotes:

The goats are so friendly

These rabbits are really cute and fluffy

Why do tractors go so slow?
