Description of trip:

Today we went into the woods for a spot of bug hunting. The class were given 'explorer kits' which consisted of all the bug hunting essentials and we went into the wilderness to see what we can find. We saw all kinds of mini beasts and had fun checking them out under the magnifying glass. The children were able to work together and follow the trail to collect all the Gruffalo stamps along the way.

This trip was so successful and the class had so much fun that we decided to order our own 'bug investigation kits' and have had a lot of fun using them.

Quotes:

I hope we don't get lost

What kind of insect is this?

Can we do this again next week?
