Description of trip: This week Flamingos went to Honey Pots painting studio in Hunstanton. Also known to the locals as, 'Sunny Hunny'. It wasn't so sunny today though. Good job we were in a cosy studio painting a Christmas decoration. There were so many Christmas pieces to choose from. Our teachers decorated a gingerbread house tree decoration. Without realising it they all chose the same colours. The pupils chose a variety of objects to paint, from a plate which was decorated with a Christmas design to a pottery reindeer. We really enjoyed painting our pieces as it was so relaxing and therapeutic. No trip to Hunstanton would be complete without a trip to the local chip shop, which was the highlight of the trip! Thank you for our day out Cambian. It was amazing. We cannot wait to see our pottery pieces.
